

Kentucky Youth Soccer Code of Conduct

Coaches, Players, Parents/Spectators and Referees

It is a privilege to be a part of the United States Soccer Federation, United States Youth Soccer Association, and Kentucky Youth Soccer Association. My actions shall always reflect credit upon these organizations and their affiliates.

Coaches:

Coaches and assistant coaches are expected to maintain a high level of sportsmanship, professionalism and integrity both on and off the field. A coach's primary responsibility is for his/her players to have fun, to develop soccer players, and to instill a passion for the game. Your performance as a coach is not measured in wins and losses, but rather in what you teach your players in terms of technique, sportsmanship and fair play. Coaches must maintain respect for the game as well as for the referees. Coaches are charged with the responsibility of controlling their players and parents at all times during a match. Coaches lead and teach by example; your players will be a reflection of you.

- Coaches and assistant coaches are expected to have a basic knowledge of the game and to pursue coaching education that will allow them to better develop their players.
- Coaches and assistant coaches should encourage players to participate in the United States Youth Soccer Olympic Development Program at any level to further their development. Furthermore, they should not in any way discourage players selected to ODP pools or teams from participating in scheduled ODP activities at any level, or take any adverse action against them for doing so.

- Coaches and assistant coaches should use positive reinforcement when dealing with players, never use foul or abusive language, and never abuse a player mentally, verbally or physically.
- Coaches and assistant coaches are expected to have respect for the authority of the referee and his/her assistants. They shall not harass, abuse or berate the referee during or after the match. They shall not enter the field of play without the referee's permission.
- Coaches and assistant coaches are expected to exhibit good sportsmanship both on and off the field. They are to teach their players the Laws of the Game, rules of fair play, and proper match behavior.

Players:

Players play soccer to have fun, to learn and develop a passion for the game, as well as to improve their skills. Players have a responsibility to their team, coach and soccer organization. They are representatives of the club as well as the team, coach, parents and the community. Players must maintain a high level of sportsmanship and fair play. Players must have respect for their coach, opponents and the authority of the referee and his/her assistants.

- Players will play within the Laws of the Game and spirit of the game.
- Players are expected to be on time and prepared for matches and training sessions.
- Players will display self-control in all situations and will not use foul or abusive language at any time before, during or after a match or training session.
- Players shall train and play to the best of their ability, have a positive attitude, and encourage others to do the same.
- Players will show respect towards the referee and his/her assistants, as well as towards the opponents. They will not harass, abuse or berate a referee for any reason.
- Players selected to participate in the United States Youth Soccer Olympic Development Program at any level should give preference to scheduled ODP activities over all other team games or other team activities.

Parents/Spectators:

Parents/Spectators must set the example for the children by exemplifying the highest standards of sportsmanship. Parents/Spectators participate in a match by watching, cheering and supporting the efforts of all participants of the match. Soccer must be fun. The game is for the children; their participation and enjoyment of the game are the most important elements.

Parents have responsibilities to the coach, team and soccer organization of which they are a part. Parents/Spectators must have respect for their coach, all children on the team, and the authority of the referee and his/her assistants.

- Parents/Spectators are expected to have respect for the authority of the referee and his/her assistants. They shall not harass, abuse or berate the referee during or after the match. They shall not enter the field of play without the referee's permission.
- Parents/Spectators are expected to have respect for the coach and his/her assistants; they should never criticize a coach in a public manner. Do not coach from the sideline; let the coach do his/her job no matter how much you may disagree. If there is a problem, talk to the coaching director or a director of your organization.
- Parents/Spectators are expected to have respect for all players. Cheer in a positive manner, not negative. Encourage your team; don't berate the other team. Cheer in a way to reward the good play of both teams and promote fair play.
- Parents/Spectators are not to use foul or abusive language towards anyone for any reason.
- Parents/Spectators have a responsibility to learn the Laws of the Game and the spirit of the game.
- Parents/Spectators are encouraged to get involved with their organization and promote the game in a positive way.
- Parents/Spectators must demonstrate the utmost in sportsmanship and integrity; they are the role models for their children.
